YOUNG BIKERS ARE OUR FUTURE

... and as such should be acknowledged ... so it was excellent to see 100% Biker magazine do just that at their Custom Show at the Autumn NABD Rally. Amongst the proud owners jostling for an entry form was a little lad of about 10 who, form completed (with probably the best handwriting of the day), whizzed across the field on his minuscule electric bike, and parked alongside the other entrants in the Show by executing an excellent side sliding skid. Not only was he awarded a rousing cheer from the onlookers, to get ready for the show. I must say I have never seen a fashion show held at a rally and with much squealing and frivolity (and that was just the audience), the various 'models' of all shapes and ages strutted their stuff in a variety of outfits in their very own unique styles in the main marquee.

So get your Mum or Dad into NABD ... 'cos if you like rallies, you will really enjoy the NABD rallies. No doubt many of you MAG Juniors and Midis attend rallies, but NABD ensure that there is 'young biker' stuff to keep you amused – including a family entertainment marquee, entertainers (I was allowed a balloon sword, but my daughter point blank refused to let me have my face painted, spoilsport that she is), fairground stuff, and fire eaters (who were not only excellent but kept you warm at the same time!). NABD know kids, so put it on the rally list

YOUNGEST MAG MEMBER?

Logan Prince, born 07/03/07, and a MAG Member since 30/5/07 aged 2 months and 23 days (I think we need to be precise here as I have heard whispers about competitive dads, namely Jim from March MAG!) Logan is pictured here at this year's Blackpool MAG Rally - this was his second rally, having 'cut his teeth' at the Accrington MCC's Off Your Sprocket Rally in May when he was nearly 3 months old. John, proud dad, tells us 'Logan loves all the attention he gets at rallies, and it's great to see big hairy scary bikers go all mushy at the sight of a baby'. So have we found the youngest MAG Member enrolled at 2 months 23 days? If not - email us at fastbike@supanet.com including a quip from one rather droll biker 'reckon that littleun just won best entry into the show', but 100% Biker awarded him with a t-shirt for his efforts.

but even this one surprised me. Basking in the brief appearance of sunlight and enjoying a quiet moment apart from said Kevin mode teenager (or should that be Kevinette as she is a girl?), enter stage left, one marshal - namely John Lyson - seeking 'cat walk fashion models'. Having confirmed that John had not lost the plot through possible multiple marshalling shifts or such like, I volunteered said teenage daughter for required modelling mode. Return of daughter, struggling under the effort of having to bear a bacon buttie a whole 50 yards across the rally site, I uttered those two magic words to her ... GIRLIE STUFF! By the way where is the volume control button on teenagers? Any teenager reading this willing to give up that secret will be handsomely rewarded!

'Twas a teenage girl's dream ... far removed from the normal lazy rally Saturday afternoon. It was off to the retail stands where she got to choose 3 loan outfits. A hair washing drama was resolved by hot water supplied by Holy Joe's, and off to the marquee to join other 'models'

BIKER BABE! Not only proud, but some dads seem to have babysitting down to a fine art ... as photographed at the Farmyard by Nik Samson, bike and sidecar and sleeping baby entered into the custom show, or is the inclusion of baby possibly a clever new type of bike alarm? Let's face it - would you dare disturb a
